

FEASTERVILLE RESIDENTS AROUSED OVER PROPOSED ROUTE OF TURNPIKE EXTENSION; MAY "HALVE" COMMUNITY

Protest Meeting Held Last Evening by Businessmen's Ass'n — Hear Report of P. R. Ross, of Lr. Southampton Board of Supervisors — Route May Cut Through Undeveloped Part of Sunset Memorial Park

FEASTERVILLE, Mar. 20 — This community is aroused over the proposed route of the Penna. Turnpike Extension which it is stated will cut this community in half. A protest meeting was held last evening in the Buck Hotel, sponsored by the Feasterville Businessmen's Association. It was attended by between 100 and 150 persons who expressed various forms of protest. The meeting was primarily to hear a report of Phineas R. Ross, secretary-treasurer of the Lower Southampton Board of Supervisors. Morris R. Ferguson was the presiding officer of the evening. Ross had visited Harrisburg to get information about the extension.

It is stated that the proposed route will be about 300 feet north of Pine Tree road and that it will take a 200-foot right-of-way. It will go through an undeveloped section of Sunset Memorial Park Cemetery which lies between County Line and Street road.

A six-man committee was named with the Rev. William Bahinsky, pastor of the Feasterville Community Church, as chairman. This committee is meeting today to start the assembling of data. The committee will endeavor to learn the exact route of the extension, through what properties it will pass and what alternate routes have been considered.

Among those protesting were Joseph W. Gural, of Central avenue and Overhill road.

"I've got a lot of money tied up in my property and so have all the

PACEMAKER IN THE RACE

Whatever else may be said of the various individuals who are being promoted for the Republican nomination there seems to be no question that the pacemaker in the presidential race is Senator Taft.

The New Hampshire primary was a perfunctory and interesting performance until Taft went there in person. Then it came to life with a vengeance. It blossomed onto the front pages, echoed across the radio, showed up strongly in television.

The tempo rose rapidly, and if, as many think, there was a bit of fumbling and false-footwork on both sides, it was largely because of the tension Taft created.

After Taft lost out, there was a good deal of postmortem. Quite a few important commentators, many of whom wouldn't support Taft in a million years, were kind enough to tell him what they considered wrong with his campaign, and suggested how to remedy it.

The gist of the advice was that he was trying too hard — "pressing," as they say in golf; and that he made a mistake in commenting in any way upon the absence of General Eisenhower.

Since the biggest test of the entire pre-convention period is the Wisconsin election next April 1, there has been curiosity to see what modifications Taft would make in his methods and approach as a result of the New Hampshire experience.

Accounts from La Crosse, Wisconsin, where Taft started out the intensive drive he plans in that state, indicate that he has made little change.

His manner, according to reporters, continued to range "from smiling amiability to table-thumping truculence."

He continued to lambaste the Truman administration, and as for pulling punches against his principal Republican rival, General Eisenhower, you can judge for yourself on the basis of the following quotation:

"I am here, ready to state my views. I don't see how a man can claim to be a candidate if he isn't here; doesn't say what he stands for or what his record shows."

The deadly earnestness with which Taft is approaching the Wisconsin election is well shown by the fact that he has lined up an intensive fourteen-day tour which will carry him into every

MAN WHO ESCAPED JAIL IS CAUGHT

Michael Sinkowich Caught In Tourist Home Near Allentown

ESCAPED DECEMBER 11

A prisoner who escaped from Bucks County jail in Doylestown on December 11th, last year, was taken into custody yesterday at Palmerton, Lehigh county. Eleven policemen, armed with machine guns and tear gas, surrounded a tourist home and forced the surrender of Michael Sinkowich, 28, of Allentown. The officers told Sinkowich they would give him "to the count of 10" to come out with his hands up. At the count of "seven" the fugitive marched out, clad only in under-shorts, with a pistol at his waistband. He was taken to Allentown for questioning in a series of robberies in the Lehigh Valley area, including a $2600 daylight robbery at the Keystone Dress Co. plant in Allentown, February 29th.

Sinkowich was a "trustee" at the Bucks County jail. He had, evidently, been in the basement of the jail, repairing shoes for another prisoner, and secured a long-handled poker from the furnace room, and tied a clothesline to it. He is thought to have climbed up a 12-foot heavy wire fence, which extends from the rear of the kitchen to the outer prison wall, tossed the poker with

This is the time of year when you and your neighbors can really do something toward fulfilling all those wonderful plans you've been making all winter. What do you want most?

Since this is an area in which great pride is taken in our homes, let's look at some of the many wonderful furnishings and accessories

Raymond Hibbs, Bristol, Rev. G. Kramer, Feasterville, Co-Chairmen

A series of evangelistic services, to be known as "Christ for Lower Bucks County Evangelistic Campaign", involving the entire Lower Bucks County area is being planned for June 1st to 22nd, inclusive, according to announcement made today.

Chairmen are endeavoring to locate a site near Penndel, suitable for a tent large enough to seat 1,000 persons and where parking facilities would be available.

An evangelist of national reputation associated with "Christ for America", Lew Stewart of Wellboro, has been engaged, and it is stated he will furnish a tent and equipment, along with a nationally known trio, the Johnson sisters, talented instrumentalists and vocalists.

Services will be conducted each evening during the three weeks and each Sunday afternoon, with the exception of the last Sunday, when a mass meeting is scheduled.

Churches that have expressed their willingness to cooperate thus far are: Methodist, Pentecostal, Church of the Nazarene, Presbyterian, Baptist, and many undenominational churches of the Lower Bucks County area.

It is anticipated special services will be conducted during some afternoons for children.

The victims and their losses are: Mrs. Edward Reading, $20; Mrs. Jacobs, of Fairless Hills, $40; Mrs. George Roberts, $36; Mrs. Robert Bachman, $4.

BRISTOL RED CROSS FUND REACHES 20%

Total of $3,367.60 Collected of $16,300 Goal in Half of Time

NEED BIGGER EFFORT

With a total of $3367.60 collected to date in the annual solicitation for Red Cross funds, the Bristol District has reached 20 per cent of its goal of $16,300.00, and one-half of the month gone. Committee chairmen are encouraged by the fine spirit of cooperation evidenced by the many workers who have begun the house-to-house membership campaign. This membership campaign provides the funds and workers for the many services which the Red Cross is commissioned by the Congress of the United States to give to the service man and the victim of disaster.

An increased effort is being put forth by all workers, since there is an increasing demand upon the services of Red Cross, due to the war in Korea and the large-scale disasters, such as the flood in Kansas this past year. The people of the Bristol area are willing to go out for this cause, remembering that no one knows when disaster

Denounce Strike As "Mob Rule"

Pittsburgh—A strike by small, independent truckers—denounced as "mob rule" by a spokesman for big trucking interests—failed today to hamper truck traffic on Pennsylvania highways. The strike is a protest against the state's 45,000-pound gross weight limit, which is about 14,000 pounds less than limits in Ohio and New York. Some 300 independent truckers called the boycott of highways at a meeting in Somerset, Pa., yesterday.

State police were alerted to forestall possible violence. More than 3,000 trucks were reported parked on the side of the super highway.

SPARROW OUT OF THE BAG

Rear Admiral John B. Moss, who is one of the top men in the Navy's Bureau of Aeronautics, either hadn't been briefed or didn't take a careful look around the Senate committee room the other day. Otherwise he might not have cut loose with so much data on an exciting development in guided missiles. As it was, the press corps gleefully picked up the information and rushed it into print.

The admiral said the Navy's new "Sparrow"—dimensions unknown—can be released from a mother plane and will track down and destroy an enemy plane at distances up to four miles. He further divulged that the missile is just about in production, and that a ground-to-air counterpart is in the works.

This is exciting news. It indicates that the Navy, at any rate,
is on the threshold of forming a new family of counter-weapon for high and fast-flying jet bombers and fighters. It will mean that another step has been taken toward pushbutton warfare. The impact of a guided missile of this type
on present offensive-defensive air strategy could be tremendous.

Actually the admiral gave more of a progress report on missiles
than a news break. Both Navy and Air Force are building plants which will turn out offensive-defensive missiles of this type. The capabilities of missiles such as the "Sparrow" had been guesswork up to this point. Now they appear in broader delineation.

The fact that the "Sparrow"
carries a mere "confidential"
classification indicates that more intriguing types are probably now
in or past the experimental stage.

HIGH TAX TROUBLE

Assertion is frequently heard that the tax structure in the United States has reached the point of diminishing returns. Lower tax rates, it is held, would produce more government revenue than current imposts.

Secretary Snyder of the Treasury is clearly worried. He is asking corporations how they intend to raise money to meet income and corporation taxes as they come due. Many may be compelled to liquidate government bonds to pay taxes, or to dip into savings, which will slow expansion or modernization of plants
to keep production rolling.

If business firms and citizens are forced to sell government bonds to meet taxes, the Treasury will be forced to use much of the incoming revenue to cash the bonds. Last year redemption of government savings bonds exceeded purchases by $1,000,000-000, which the Treasury paid out.
This trend is expected to gain
this year.

The revenue position of the government is far from satisfactory. The policy of boosting taxes
each year to meet increased expenditures is running out.

bedroom suite in ebony with ultra modern handles. If you'd rather watch television than wax and scrub kitchen chairs, then you'll be interested in a really delightful formica and chrome dinette. The one shown is in a pastel blue and light grey. However, these sets come in almost any color combination you require.

Perhaps your home is lovely with its present furniture and you need only a new television or appliance. No matter what you want to spend you will find your television set in Bristol. There are sets in light or dark woods as well as plastic in anything from a small table model to an elaborate "family theatre" type of set in all of the well-known brands. Each one a family trip to the baseball games which are just around the corner.

Your automatic appliances are a wonderland of modern electronics. Possibly it's too soon after March 15th and there isn't enough money left in the "kitty" for new furniture. You can go wonders with a set of inexpensive slip covers. They come in lovely floral patterns as well as in plain colors and stripes. These run in both the low and moderate price fields. Blending draperies are available in both plastic and cloth.

Now that nice weather will soon be here to stay, you'll want to spend some time outdoors so let's not forget to look at the garden tools. Or are you one of the lucky ones who remembers where he stored them last fall? Do you notice that the tools seem to be a little more streamlined this season? A little four-pronged cultivator with a smooth rounded handle will help you care for your precious plants and shrubs with a minimum of effort. There are floral shovels as well as garden shovels. Your spading forks and hoes, together with your garden hose, can be placed in a small wheelbarrow that is shown in one of the stores. If your lawn looks a little hopeless after the strain of snow and frost give it a little "face lift" with one of the many fertilizers or some seed. Give it a little care and a little time. You'll be proud of it!

After the work in the garden has been done for the day and the little men folk may want to "spruce up" and go visiting.

They won't have to wonder what to wear if they have taken advantage of the smart clothes, for men and boys, which can be purchased locally. If dad doesn't know what he can find here, why don't you take a look so that you can tell him.

There is a distinguished grey-tan gabardine double breasted suit which would do a lot for most any man regardless of age or stature. It would simply be a matter of choosing a shirt and tie to suit his particular coloring or possibly even his mood at the moment and for a specific occasion.

You will also see the ever popular corduroy jackets in a conservative or Hollywood style. These are smart and practical because of the many different types of trousers that can be worn with them. For the smaller fry you will also see these corduroys as well as checked models. Rayon gabardine trousers which are crease resistant and often spot resistant are good looking and easy on the pocketbook. If you like to take it easy why not get him a dry-in-a-jiffy nylon shirt? You'll want to look your best, too. So, if you've not already selected your suit or dress, why not look at the many lovely new presentations? There is a pretty checked top in gold and blue wool which would go over most summer colors.

One store has a very nice pink straw shell hat trimmed in navy lacy veiling. Although the window display is in pink, the hat comes in other pastel shades and is definitely "Paris-looking" and will be truly chic with suit or dress alike.

It's a shame that we can't have all the lovely things we see, but it's wonderful that they are there when we are ready.

It's good to live in this area and it's fun to shop here, too, isn't it?

He then climbed up this rope. He had been sentenced to serve two years in prison for violation of the fire-arms act, and was given a hit-run conviction on April 9th. His absence was not noticed until nearly eight o'clock that evening, when the prisoners were locked in their cells.

Fluorine Treatment Is Discussed Before PTA

HULMEVILLE, Mar. 20—A paper, read by Dr. Edward Flood, of Bristol, before members of Hulmeville-Middletown Parent-Teacher Association, last evening, pointed out benefits gained through fluoridation of water in prevention of tooth decay. The meeting was held in the school house.

The speaker mentioned that in some sections of the country there is a natural supply of fluorine in water. He cited figures to show reduction of decay in some areas, adding that fluorine "helps only during growth of the teeth," it being applied with greatest effect at ages of three, seven, 10 and 13 years. The benefit to older people was doubted by the speaker. He added that tests show there are no harmful effects to the body. If it is not possible to add fluorine to the water supply, the next best method is treatment by a dentist, the parents and teachers were informed. Four treatments in a period of four weeks were recommended. A question period followed.

The refreshments were served in the cafeteria by Mrs. Ferdinand Reetz, Sr., Mrs. Horace Tomlinson and Mrs. William Ott, the decorations being in keeping with St. Patrick season.

Mrs. Vincent Latham, P. T. A. president, asked Mrs. Earl Foster to read minutes of the February meeting. The 43 present joined in singing of "America." A Bible passage, read by the president, was followed by prayer by the Rev. Edward W. Stuess, pastor of Neshamony Methodist Church. Report of treasurer, Dr. N. P. Larson, was read by the president.

Principal Frank Binder gave the cafeteria report for February, showing that 1,340 meals were served during the month. With federal subsidization to be cut, the P. T. A. will make up the amount previously received for milk for the pupils.

A total of 71 members was reported by Mrs. Fred Foster, membership chairman.

Plans were advanced for the bazaar in June. Fred Herrmann asked all to donate articles for sale at the affair. In April members are asked to take "white elephant" items in preparation for the event. A booth will be set up for Girl Scouts and Brownies, also one for Boy Scouts and Cubs, at which the girls and boys may display and sell handicraft articles. A "parcel post" booth will also be planned, members being asked to invite relatives and friends living at distant points or on vacation to send packages. Mrs. Harry Beck will receive all donations.

Mr. Winter was named chairman of the committee to discuss projects with the teachers.

Committee appointments include: Nominating, Mrs. Herman Pettigrew, Harry Beck, John Connors, Mrs. Joseph Mucklow, Jr., Mrs. Nieckoski, Mrs. Robert Stephens; playground, Ross Buckman, Harry Beck, Lester D. Spill.

Mr. Herrmann informed that the Boy Scout group has grown so large that new quarters are needed. He stated Grace Episcopal Church has expressed willingness to sponsor the troop, and the charter is to be relinquished by P. T. A. to the church in June. Girl Scouts will meet in the Grace Church parish room each Friday at 3.30 p. m. Attendance award went to Mrs. Charlotte Walsh's first grade.

LAWRENCE, Kas. (INS) — For the first time in Kansas' history, the annual value of raw minerals produced in the state has exceeded 400 million dollars. The State Geological Survey said last year's production was $405,300,000, which is double that of five years ago.

SYMBOL OF HOPE

FLOWERS express man's hope for everlasting peace. Their delicate beauty and fragrance shut out doubt and darkness by symbolizing the love we hold for those we've lost.

And, because we love, we grieve. But, because we have faith, we look forward to immortality. To our soul's unspoken question on these solemn occasions, flowers whisper comfortingly, "Hope!"

Because...like life...flowers flourish and fade. But there is something in their vital beauty that cannot wholly perish.

When you can't be there with those who grieve, Flowers-By-Wire carry your sympathy across the miles.

Look for the famous F.T.D. Mercury emblem. It identifies the right shape!

OIL INDUSTRY BIRTH IS IMPORTANT EVENT

May Rank Second in Importance To Signing of Independence Declaration

CREDIT TO S. KIER

Among the most remarkable and decisive events of world history
during the past 100 years, is one which occurred on Pennsylvania soil and for which the residents of this state are chiefly responsible. In the opinion of future generations, it may rank second in importance only to that other great Pennsylvania event, the signing of the Declaration of Independence.
That event was the birth of the oil industry — an industry which has remade the modern world.

Though Edwin Drake drilled the first commercial oil well near Titusville in 1859, and was the first to make use of an iron tube or casing
to enable his drills to penetrate loose, wet sands and unconsolidated earth, he was by no means the pioneer in the production of Pennsylvania petroleum, nor did he discover its use as a source of lubricants and illuminating oil. Credit for that development goes to Samuel M. Kier, a citizen of Pittsburgh,

who developed a practicable method of producing "coal oil" from crude petroleum, several years before the drilling of Drake's well.
During the 1840's, diggers of salt
wells in the neighborhood of Tarentum, Pa., occasionally struck a stratum of sandstone containing a black, tarry substance which dis-colored the salt brine and gave the salt an unpleasant taste. Perhaps on the primitive theory that any strong-smelling or bitter substance
had powerful medicinal qualities, this oil became a popular "cure-all"
and was bottled and sold in limited quantities when skimmed from the salt wells or from the surface of creeks and pools in Pennsylvania's northwestern counties. Samuel Kier engaged in this business and bottled a product known as "Kier's Rock Oil." With the digging of more and more salt wells, this rock oil became so plentiful that the market value seriously declined.
Threatened with a loss of his business, Kier experimented with distilling petroleum and found that the resulting product was a colorless oil, similar to the "kerosene"
or "coal oil" which had recently been developed by a man named Abraham Gessner.

Gessner's kerosene was produced by the distillation of coal and was the first crude experiment in a process now being developed to produce gasoline and lubricating oil from oil shales and bituminous coal, but Gessner, like many inventors, was 100 years before his time for Kier found that kerosene could be produced much more easily from petroleum than from coal.
As a result of this discovery and of Kier's invention of an improved burner for the traditional whale
oil lamp, a market was developed for Kier's so-called "carbon oil", but production was limited by the amount of oil found in the salt wells. As a consequence, when Drake succeeded in drilling the first artesian oil well in 1859, the value of kerosene or "carbon oil"
was already partly realized and two years after the drilling of Drake's well, the oil industry was well established. From 2,000 barrels in 1859, Pennsylvania's output increased to more than 2 million barrels in 1861, by which years oil had been exported to many foreign countries and knowledge had been gained as to the chemical properties of this new industrial fluid. In 1861, two years after the first run from Drake's well, an article was published in the London Times,
detailing the various products obtainable from crude oil, such as,
paraffine wax, naphtha, lubricating
oils, benzole, from which aniline and magenta dyes could be produced, and solvents which could be used as a substitute for turpentine
in paint, and to dissolve India rubber. Considerable concern was being expressed in England at that time that the Civil War might make it difficult to ship Pennsylvania petroleum to London and Liverpool.

Following that war, the oil production of the Keystone State rapidly increased, reaching its peak in 1891 when the state's output totaled 31,424,000 barrels. Great oil fields in the west and south now dominate the production of petroleum, but Pennsylvania's importance in this now vital industry is still maintained by the superior quality of its more limited output.

Feasterville Residents Aroused Over Turnpike

rest of us," he said. "They (the turnpike commission) have bypassed all the other towns in this area in laying out the turnpike extension. Why cut Feasterville in half?"

William Wiegand, of Overhill
road, near Central avenue, objected that the turnpike would create a traffic hazard and a nuisance.

"I've been trying for years to get out of the city and move into a suburban community," he said. "We don't want all this noise and traffic
coming right past our homes."

Paul McBride, chief of the Feasterville Fire Co., said his organization objected to the proposed

route because it would create dead ends at eight or 10 streets which would greatly hamper fire companies in responding to alarms in various sections of the town.

Edward C. Trainer To Talk On Zoning Laws

PENNDL, Mar. 20 — "Industry, Stay 'way from my Home!" will be the theme of an address by Edward
C. Trainer, president of the Somerton Civic Association, of Philadelphia, Tuesday evening 6:45 p. m.
before the Kiwanis Club of Bucks County Lincoln Highway assembled

Holiday Inn, Lincoln Point near Morrisville.

While Trainer is an industrialist himself, an owner-executive of the

erton neighbors in a strong fight against proposed changes in Philadelphia zoning codes which will permit and even require location of industries in what has been up to now a residential community, at the northeast corner of the City of Philadelphia.

NEWTOWN, Mar. 20—A musical program featured the meeting of Newtown Parent-Teacher Association held in Council Rock high school auditorium, Monday evening.

Students of the elementary school and Council Rock high school participated in selections as follows:

"Blue Bells of Scotland," clarinet solo by Forrest Vocum; "Dorothy," piano solo, by Adelaide McKenney; "Melody," clarinet duet by fourth graders Leroy Lane and "Bobby" McDonough. Miss Vivian Miller was announcer for the numbers rendered by Council Rock chorus: "This Nearly Was Mine," directed by Miss Madeline Esposito with a chorus of 50 voices; "Some Enchanted Evening," "Memories," "On the Wings of Love," "Lift Thine Eyes" and "Hallelujah Amen," were directed by John Basco; trio, composed of Madeline Esposito, Jane Berry, Doris Reed, with Marion Whitworth, as alto soloist, rendered "Ball Hi"; Elva Leonhardt and "Betty" Gilbert, piano duet, "Key of E." A nominating committee, consisting of Charles Swartz, Jr., Miss Mary Williams, Walter Wright, William Traub and Mrs. Ralph Esposito, was appointed to take a new slate of officers to the next meeting.

Mrs. Walter Scully, chairman of the PTA evaluating committee, gave various suggestions which had come to the attention of her committee: "The teachers and parents not being well enough acquainted, not sufficient interest on the part of parents in work of the PTA and the school, more speakers desired from local areas, and separation of the elementary and high schools in the PTA organization." As a result of the suggestions, a motion was adopted that separate PTA organizations for the two schools be organized in the 1952-53 term. Other members serving on the evaluating committee included Calvin White, Miss Doris Erdman, William Kershaw, Mrs. Alfred Conrad.

Supervising Principal Norman Kratz explained that funds from the government, which have aided in operating the cafeteria will be curtailed beginning April 1st, at which time it will be necessary to charge two cents more for a quart of milk; on May 1st, the price of platters must be raised about nine cents, unless funds are made available from some other source. He also announced a dinner meeting April 1st in the Richboro Fire Hall, for teachers and parents of Area Five. It was voted to send two delegates to the area dinner.

ST. ANN'S CAPTURES THE YMCA MIDGET LEAGUE CROWN

St. Ann's A. A. Jrs. have officially captured the YMCA Midget Basketball League championship. The "Saints" defeated the second place VFW Jrs. and the Moose Jrs. in their last two games of the season. Plans are being made by the officials of the St. Ann's A. A. to formally receive the league trophy at a gathering of the team's players. Thus the first midget basketball league to be organized in Bristol has come to a successful end. The YMCA anticipates an additional number of new teams next season. Already several teams from "Fairless Hills" have been working out in the "Y" gym. YMCA Physical Director Frank J. Fuoco expects the league to double in the number of teams entering the league next season.

BATTLE FOR TIE FOR FIFTH PLACE LISTED FOR TONIGHT

Franklin A. C. and Profys' meet win their games tonight in order to get into a tie for fifth place, final playoff spots of the Bristol Basketball League.

Tonight at 7:30 o'clock, Franklin will play Hilltop. Franklin is one-half game behind Fifth Ward and Luciano and should the Franks win, a tie-off game will be played. Profys, which meets Cornwells in the nightcap of the twin-bill is in the same position and cannot afford to be beaten.

Should both Franklin and Profys lose, it will mean that the first five teams are "in" and the playoffs will get under way Monday night. Franklin will present its strongest lineup in Joe Spencer, Grant Eckert, Bill Mobley, Dezy Delise, Tony Palumbo, Stan Leinski, Howard Keys and Pete DeLuca. Hilltop, the cellar team, has caused plenty of trouble in recent weeks and topped its performances with an 83-28 triumph over Rohn & Haas.

Cornwells, the regular season champions, will be after their seventh straight win against the Profymen. Manager Reggie Samero is depending on his regular team of Jim Caskey, Pete Bound, Samero, Bill Curran, Eddie Oliver, and Al Bader.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Hospital Position Stated in Letter

persons without any hospital facilities.

On the basis of four beds per 1,000 inhabitants, this would indicate that 280 beds are needed for the normal 1950 population.

Because of the determination of the board of directors of the hospital to provide some hospital facilities for this area at the earliest possible moment, and because of the full realization of the inability of the board to raise by public campaign enough funds to provide its share or percentage of the cost under the Hill-Burton Act for a hospital of more than 100 beds, exception was not taken at that time to the rezoning program which limited the total to 100 beds.

During the period in which the rezoning of the area was being considered, there was a number of rumors to the extent that the U. S. Steel company was planning to build, in connection with the housing division of their project, a 50-bed hospital and it was assumed that this information had influenced the committee charged with the responsibility of the rezoning and their establishment of a 100 bed limitation for the Lower Bucks County Hospital project.

During the financial campaign, the U. S. Steel company made a contribution of $200,000 to the Lower Bucks County Hospital Project with the suggestion that 50 beds be added to the planned 100 beds, advising that it was not the company's intention to build a competing hospital. Mr. A. J. Berdis, general superintendent of the Fairless works, is now a member of the Lower Bucks County Hospital board of directors.

Your department is no doubt familiar with the circumstances leading up to and the results of a special study of the area's hospital needs made by the New York regional office of the U. S. Public Health Service under direction of headquarters in Washington, which pertained to the provision of the necessary hospital facilities under Public Law No. 139.

This report, as you know, recommends a 500 bed hospital in the Lower Bucks County Defense area.

In view of the fact that the provisions of Public Law No. 139 limits the expenditure for hospital beds to the influx of population entirely attributable to the defense efforts, the maximum number of beds which can be provided under Public Law No. 139 and at the rate of four beds per 1,000 people, would be 300. Therefore, any portion of the number of hospital beds which is needed in the area for the normal population or that number indicated by the 1950 census, 70,000 must be provided by the citizens plus Federal assistance under the Hill-Burton Act.

The Board of Directors of the hospital, because of the extreme emergency which now exists, are having detailed plans and specifications prepared for a 100 bed hospital with an alternate proposal for 50 additional beds with all of the major auxiliary facilities and sub-structure of the building of sufficient proportion and design to expand the hospital to a total of 300 beds.

The overall or long range plans for the hospital indicates that if and when funds are available, a separate building will be provided primarily for maternity patients for the additional number of beds required to meet the ever-increasing population in the future.

The latest reports of the efforts of the Board to raise funds by public subscription indicates that $1,200,000 has been raised in cash and pledges toward the cost of the project and even though these results indicate outstanding efforts on the part of the general public to do their share in providing the necessary hospital facilities, it is self-evident that if this area is to have the required number of beds needed for the normal population, as indicated by the 1950 census, it must obtain as much Federal assistance as possible.

In view of the foregoing, I have been instructed to request that further consideration be given this hospital zone with the view of increasing the allowable beds to at least 200, it being clearly indicated that 100 beds would be far short of meeting the needs of the normal population.

Your favorable consideration is anticipated and we stand ready to furnish any additional information which you may desire or require.

40th Anniversary Marked For The Girl Scouts

NEWTOWN, Mar. 20—The Girl Scouts' 40th anniversary was celebrated by Junior New Century Club at its March meeting. Mrs. Frank Skerdlant, Girl Scout chairman, was in charge of the program, presented by members of local troops. The meeting was opened with a flag ceremony, members of the color guard being Doreen Cornell, Lana Roedts, and Carolyn Skerdlant. Laura Wilkes and Dolores Hofmeister offered their version of "Slow Poke." Alice Russell and Marian Sheeran presented two types of dances, Alice doing a Mexican hat dance and Marian a toe dance, "Air de Ballet." Mrs. Granville Kirby accompanied the performers at the piano. Pamela Conrad played a piano solo, and Alice Burns played "Liebestraum." "Any Time" and the "Beer Barrel Polka" on an accordion. Mrs. Skerdlant informed there are five active troops, consisting of 120 girls, 12 adult leaders and 20 troop committee members. These troops are sponsored jointly by the senior and Junior New Century Clubs. At the conclusion, the participants blew out the candles on the Girl Scouts birthday cake.

A business meeting, conducted by Mrs. Robert A. Sheeran, president, followed, at which time the club members voted to send $10 to Red Cross.

The welcoming committee chairman, Mrs. Robert Ritter, reported three new arrivals in the area had been called upon and requested that anyone knowing of any new arrivals to contact her.

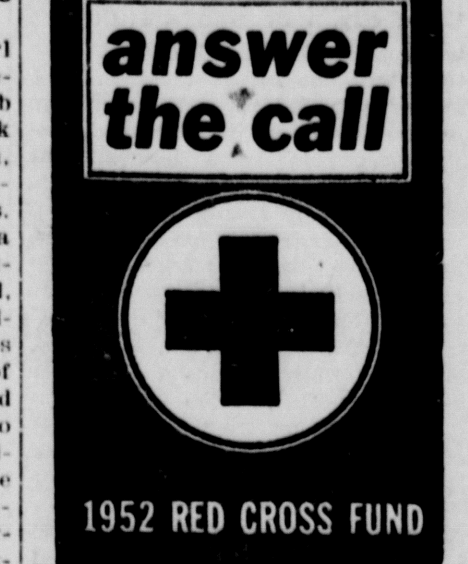

It was announced the April meeting will be one of the most outstanding of the year with the well-known Philadelphia, Mrs. Helen Heydrick, speaking on "There Is No Ceiling On Life." Members of the senior club will be guests.

The executive board will meet at the home of Mrs. Robert Titlow April 1st.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Frank Skerdlant, Mrs. R. M. Morrell, Mrs. Calvin White, Mrs. J. Watson Cornell.

"WASHINGTON REPORT"By FULTON LEWIS, JR.
(Copyright, 1952,
King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 20 — For more than 10 years the Department of Justice has had knowledge that a union of government employees was organized and controlled by communists. Government employees, however, are still allowed to retain their membership and their government jobs.

The organization is the United Public Workers of America, with 35,000 members employed by local, state and federal government agencies. Its members distribute to government employees communist propaganda which incites racial friction and attempts to degrade public officials and laws designed to control subversive activity in the U. S. While doing this, they continue to draw salaries from the government.

The heaviest concentration of UPWA members is in the immigration and naturalization service, which has been a sieve for the infiltration of alien communists sent to the U. S. on Kremlin orders. A number of UPWA members employed by the government have undergone loyalty and security investigations and have been declared fit for government employment. A day later they could be seen distributing communist handbills to other government employees.

The national president of the UPWA, Abraham Flaxer, the secretary-treasurer, Ewart Guinier, the director of negotiations, Alfred Bernstein, and two members of the executive board, Jack Bigel and Mrs. Rose Russell, were identified as communists in executive session hearings before the McCarran Internal Security sub-committee of the senate. Some of them had also been so identified in previous hearings before other congressional committees.

The UPWA was ousted by the Congress of Industrial Organizations in 1946 for being communist dominated. Even this did not prompt the Department of Justice to label the organization as undesirable insofar as federal employees are concerned. There are other unions of federal employees which are not communist dominated, so membership in the UPWA cannot be excused on the ground that a prohibition of membership would deprive federal workers of union recognition.

Flaxer's behavior before the McCarran sub-committee was typically communist. He was asked by Senator Herbert O'Connor, Democrat of Maryland, if he had ever "put communist party leaders in touch with people in government agencies who have furnished them information of a classified nature?"

Flaxer replied: "I just might add that this is one of those filthy and dirty blows below the belt that I resent."

When Senator Arthur Watkins, Republican of Utah, pursued the question, Flaxer stated:

"That is filthy, dirty."

The committee was trying to find out if the UPWA, knowing it was communist controlled, ever used union members on the federal payroll as couriers or purveyors of classified information for the benefit of the communist party of this country or for Soviet Russia.

It has been done, as the senators know, so the question is perfectly proper. Russia gets U. S. secrets from the files of the federal government, as we all know, and it can be assumed that Soviet agents would first turn to those employees of the government who belong to organizations controlled by the communist party.

Flaxer, however, acted shocked at the assumption. He finally refused to answer on grounds of possible self incrimination, which is another way of saying that he is afraid, to either lie or tell the truth.

Senator Pat McCarran should send a copy of the testimony and the sub-committee's conclusions to the Department of Justice with a note calling Attorney General J. Howard McGrath's attention to it. McGrath doesn't like communists and this would be a good opportu-

ity for him to warn all government workers. In addition to ruling that any person who persists in membership in the UPWA is playing fast and loose with his or her job. Let's give them about 30 days to make up their minds.

OSS REVENUE, PRR, EXCEEDS A "BILLION"

51 Total is The Largest in History for A Single Railroad

OT SATISFACTORY"

ross revenues for the Pennsylvania Railroad exceeded a billion in 1951, reaching the largest in history for a single railroad, but earnings of $2.03 per share failed to reflect the record.

The 1951 Annual Report to stockholders, made public today, set out several reasons for the "unsatisfactory" earnings of $2.03 per share, including the continued increase in the costs of wages, fuel, material and supplies; the lag and delay in adjusting freight rates; the petition to the Interstate Commerce Commission; and "a cost of $10,000,000 resulting from work on the Pennsylvania Railroad, which was not reflected in the 1951 year. Net income for 1951, $38,420,677, included two large non-recurring items from tax reserve adjustment credit and back-mail pay. Net income for 1951 was accomplished after overcoming a deficiency of $44 million between increased costs and the "inadequate increases" in rates, fares and charges permitted by the I. C. C. "It is encouraging that in spite of these very serious handicaps a net income of $26,700,000 was produced principally through increased efficiency and increased volume," Mr. Franklin said.

Both freight and passenger revenues were higher, principally due to increased volume. Freight revenues increased $97,800,000 and passenger revenue $13,775,000 over 1950. Total Operating Revenues for the year amounted to $1,044,387,274, an increase of $114,246,400 or 12.3% over 1950. Increased costs of wages, fuel, material and supplies, together with the increased cost of handling the greater volume of business, caused Total Operating Expenses to rise 13.8% to a total of $892,945,690, an increase of $108,418,126 compared to 1950. Wages and payroll taxes alone took 58.6 cents of each dollar of total operating revenues in 1951.

The post-war equipment program has been further enlarged to a total of $658,000,000 principally by additional orders for new freight cars and diesel locomotives. 239 diesel locomotives were received and placed in service during 1951, leaving 264 remaining on order. 14,886 new freight cars were received and placed in service, with 7,050 remaining on order. "Substantial progress has been made," according to the report, and "this entire program should be largely completed in 1952, except for a relatively small portion which will extend into the first six months of 1953. Equipment involving $522 million has already been placed in service. Of this amount $149 million was paid for in cash."

NEWS OF SCHOOLS IN AREA--

All public, private and parochial schools in the Bristol area are invited to send news items for publication in this column which appears frequently.

Pennsbury District

LOWER MAKEFIELD TWP. Mar. 20—The Domino Polka will be a featured dance specialty in the fourth annual sports night to be held in Pennsbury high school "gym," March 21st and 22nd.

Barbara Smith, a senior, has been chosen as captain of the Black team for sports night. She is captain of the girls' varsity basketball team, and secretary of the student council.

Jerry Carver, a senior, has been chosen as captain of the Orange team. Jerry is extremely active in sports, being captain of cheerleaders, captain of the girls' hockey team, and a varsity basketball player.

The schedule for Pennsbury high's track meets has been released by Coach Adam Donzanti: April 30, Delhaas, at home; May 7, Bristol, away; May 14, Nesheim, away; May 21, county track meet, place undecided; date unsure, Morrisville, away.

This schedule for these meets will be enlarged. Plans are also in progress for entering two relay teams in the annual competition in the Penn Relays at Franklin Field, Philadelphia.

"A record number of 51 boys have come out for Pennsbury high's track this year," stated Mr. Donzanti.

Returning lettermen on the Varsity team are: Harry Burwell, Arthur Edwards, and "Dave" Kennedy, seniors; "Don" Doherty, Frank Cingel, and John Ellis, juniors; "Bob" Kincaid and "Tom" Maybury, sophomores.

Loring Bixler, junior, and "Dick" Reese, sophomore, with past track experience from other schools, will be new members of this year's team.

Coming up from junior high to the varsity team are "Tom" Ramsey, "Sam" McIntyre, "Lonnie" Whitfield, and Howard Wood, freshmen; and "Mort" Caffey, sophomore.

"Lonnie" captured first place in the pole vault and high jump at last year's county meet. He also broke two more records while spending part of this past winter in Florida, so he will be a valuable asset to the team.

Council Rock District

NEWTOWN, Mar. 20—On April 3rd, there will be a special assembly in Council Rock high school auditorium when a movie, "Cheaper by the Dozen," will be shown.

The junior high school student council has voted to continue the practice of presenting scholarship and citizenship awards to outstanding boys and girls at the end of the year.

The group has voted on the following awards: $3 to the highest ranking student in each class; $2 to the second ranking student in each class; and $3 to the "best homeroom citizen."

The student council is under leadership of the following students: President, Geraldine Tomlinson; vice-president, "Bill" Caul; secretary, Lee Walker; treasurer, Anne Starr.

The 8th grade social studies classes and the Dramatic Club participated in an educational trip to Philadelphia, Mar. 13th, to visit the United States Mint, and also to see the "movie," "Quo Vadis," because of its great historical importance and significance.

This group was taken on a conducted tour through the Mint and saw some of the first stamping machines as well as coins in the actual process of being made. This Mint makes foreign as well as United States coins, and medals of honor conferred by the government. Eighty students were chaperoned by Miss Bakay, Mrs. Hartzel, Mr. Gilbert, Mrs. Heyle, and Mr. Kenderdine.

The film, "Quo Vadis," provided basis for class discussion on the following day.

"Mush," the Alaskan term, is a contraction of the French "marchons" meaning to go on.

HAS PLAY PART

DOROTHY BINGHAM

Bensalem high senior, who has the part of Serena Stuart, a magazine photographer, in "Spring is Here," Bensalem high school play, scheduled for March 27-28 at Cornwells Heights. Dorothy, daughter of William Bingham, Eddington, is on the yearbook staff, a member of the Secretarial Club, Safety Club, "gym" exhibition, basketball team, and took part in the radio forum program.

WILL VAULTS

ANDERSON, S. C. (INS)—Probate Judge R. F. King believes that everyone should have a safe place to store their wills. In fact, Judge King is striving to obtain a vault in which the wills would be stored. Under his plan, any person so desiring would be free to place his will in the vault where it would be kept in a special sealed envelope.

SMOKE

WASHINGTON (INS)—The "smoke" that rises from an erupting volcano is not smoke, but steam.

REVER IN CAST

WILLIAM H. REVER, JR.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Rever, Andalusia, is vice-president of the Student Council, a member of the band, yearbook and "Bensalemite" staff. He plays the part of Tony Jones, a young man of mystery who literally sweeps Rozalind off her feet in "Spring is Here."

FINALLY BITTEN

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (INS)—It took 75 years of living and 32 years service as a police officer in Chattanooga for Jailer W. L. Scott to encounter one of the rarest dangers of the police profession. He was bitten by a woman prisoner as he led her to a cell. Judge Riley Graham took a dim view of the situation and fined Jean Poole, 21, $50 for drunkenness and disorderly conduct.

DIMPLED TIRES

AKRON, O. (INS)—Airplane tires are getting a face lifting. In fact, tire engineers at B. F. Goodrich have added dimples in a novel departure from conventional rib type plane tires. The dimples, they explained, provide better distribution of the tire load and greatly increase the life of the tire.

You see them in the paper almost every day. "Held for damages..." "Man sued for accident..." They mean that some one is going to pay the bills—bills that sometimes run into thousands of dollars. And in these days of crowded highways and streets it may just as well be you who is held responsible.

Don't take a chance. A policy with us protects you against this risk. We assume all lawyers' fees, court charges and damages if you are held responsible. The cost is really very little and more than paid for in your peace of mind. Talk to us and find out how little it will cost you.

nook and cranny of the Badger State, making each day as many as a dozen curbside talks and six or eight major appearances. First accounts of his tour indicated that he was drawing crowds of from 1200 to 2000 in the major rural centers, and on his first day addressed a total of 10,000 persons.

Meanwhile speculation about whether General Eisenhower will come back to the United States before the convention to stimulate his campaign continues unabated following receipt of the latest letter from the general on this subject.

At first reading, General Eisenhower seemed to have slammed the door on this possibility, since he limited the conditions of his return to "a compelling call or relief by higher authority," and elsewhere apparently explained what he had in mind by the word "call" when he said:

"There is no question in my mind concerning the propriety of answering a clear-cut call to another and higher duty, a call that is traditionally and universally recognized as the voice of the American people speaking through a national convention."

On the face of it, this would appear to mean that the General was promising to return to the U. S. A. if and when nominated, but not before unless the President ordered him home.

The idea that he flatly refused to come back before the convention, no matter how urgently those promoting his candidacy may summon him, is strengthened by the following remarks:

"Such a call (i.e., nomination) imposes an obligation of citizenship on the man so honored. It seems to me, however, that it is an entirely different thing to leave a critical assignment for the purpose of increasing the possibility or probability of such a summons."

In spite of this apparently clean-cut refusal to heed the demand of his supporters that he come to this country well ahead of the convention, many of the pro-Eisenhower group hastened to say they found hints in the letter that the General might yield to their pleas and come back home.

Senator Frank Carlson of Kansas, co-chairman of the Eisenhower-for-President movement, declared that the letter "leaves the door wide open" for his return.

These supporters pin their optimism on two points—first, on the General's statement that he would yield to "a compelling call," and second, he promised to "regularly re-examine" his position, bearing in mind the urgent pleas of his representatives in the presidential fight.

Senator Carlson and others who dwell on the subject of the "compelling call" disregard the definition which General Eisenhower apparently wrote into his letter, and seek to construe the Eisenhower victory in New Hampshire as a sort of "mandate," equivalent, in their minds, to nomination.

Don't Worry If Lapses Occur In Your Child's Development

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D.

A CHILD at two, nine, or sixteen, does not always go forward smoothly in development. Often he slips back, though his general growth is forward. "Unless you keep this in mind, every little dip can get you in a dither." So says Dr. James L. Hymes, Jr. very aptly in his new book, "Understanding Your Child."

To quote further: "The youngster who can walk pretty well still wants you to carry him at times. The child who can go up stairs still likes to have you lift him now and then. The boy who can feed himself still wants to be fed. The infant who is dry most of the time still wets now and then. The child who can read still likes to be read to. The ten-year-old who is so casual and offhand with you still wants a hug and kiss every now and again. The older child who is so set on having his own way and who always knows best, can get very upset at times if you don't help him make up his mind."

Poor Appetite

Your child at four, five or six, who has been eating heartily of every food you offer him, may suddenly choose to eat only certain foods, or very little of any kind. If the poor appetite continues long you will be wise, however, to consult your pediatrician. If he finds no physical cause, you will look for other causes. Perhaps he has been eating excessively of sweets or other foods between meals.

There may be emotional causes: he may have anxieties about his security among the family or his playmates. You may have expressed strong concern over his lapse in appetite, causing him to suppose it is something to be proud of. If you can wait and contain yourself, his good appetite may soon return. Try to provide him with all the atmosphere which proved successful earlier.

Your child may have acquired perfect bladder and bowel control at three or four, even sleeping dry all night. Then he may slip back to his ways at eight or ten years old, and you are discouraged and exasperated. But the beginning of the relapse may have followed a cold, a severe illness, or some emotional upset of his. Your disappointment and disgust with his backsliding easily provided the emotional climate for him to continue with his incontinence. But all is not lost. Retraining under favorable conditions usually is relatively easy.

More Stubborn

But there are certain stages at which he is more stubborn than earlier or later, as between two and four (as shown in my bulletin, "Stubbornness," to be had in a stamped envelope sent me in care of this paper). There may be stages later, too, when he resists conformity to what you might desire. He might have enjoyed going with the family for a drive or sitting with them at church till he was eight or older, but might suddenly insist he doesn't like this way. Or he may indicate that he no longer wants to be kissed. Let's adapt to such wishes of his.

To assume that any kind of undesirable behavior that persists is just a stage he is going through, and that he will grow out of it, is foolish. While the recent emphasis on "a stage he is passing through" is just what some nervous, over-anxious parents should hear, it also is causing a good many other parents to be lulled into a false sense of security, only to be sadly disillusioned later.

PROCESS BOON TO
KNITTED COTTONSDoylestown Man Gives His Name To The "Redman-
izing" Process

GUARANTEES SHAPE

YARDLEY, Mar. 20 — A local resident, Frank Redman, of North Main street, has recently developed the "Redmanizing" process for knitted goods. This does, according to Mr. Redman, for knitted cotton garments what "Sanforizing" does for woven cottons. It guarantees that a knitted garment will retain its original shape even after 100 washings.

Redman is Philadelphia born, and spent 10 years as chemical director in the Cold Spring Bleachery at Yardley. He has many developments to his credit—among them a permanent finish type of collar, which gained wide use in Europe, and also the hot water heating system used in making the cars today comfortable.

The story of Frank Redman's recent discovery came about like this. Back in 1941, he, along with other technologists, was called to Washington for consultation on a battleship problem. The powder used in the guns on ships was stored in silk bags. Because of the obvious scarcity of available silk at this time, the supply in time became very short. Redman went to work on the problem and two weeks after Pearl Harbor he demonstrated that cotton, by treatment with certain chemicals, proved just as efficient as silk, and in some respects did a better job.

Working with the U. S. Quartermaster Department, Redman later found a way to prolong the life and prevent shrinkage in undershirts. "Thus we have the story of a man who says, 'I've always wanted to make things—new things, and I guess I always will." Mrs. Redman is not out of this picture. She accompanies her husband on most of his business trips, keeping scrapbooks and in other ways, alerting herself on the projects under way.

Along with these duties, she finds time to pursue a hobby of her own. She has an unusual collection of various types of vases, which have come from all over the world.

1 stalk chopped celery
1 medium carrot, chopped
1 medium onion, chopped
1 tsp. chopped parsley
¾ cup dry sherry

1 tbs. tomato paste
Salt, pepper to taste.
Melt butter and olive oil in hot skillet. Brown chops well on both sides (about 10 minutes). Add all chopped vegetables, salt and pepper to taste; cover; simmer about 10 minutes or until all vegetables are soft. Gradually add sherry in to which tomato paste has been well blended. Stir occasionally to prevent burning or sticking. Cover. Simmer over low flame about 20 minutes or until chops are tender. While simmering, if there is insufficient gravy, add 2 tablespoons of warm water. Serve very hot. Serves 4.

ECONOMICAL JUDGE

ALAMOSA, Colo.—(INS)—A jurist's prudence recently saved Alamosa County about $400 in construction costs. County Judge G. H. Sheesley was told a new bench, desk and witness box would cost about $500. The county commissioners thought the price was too steep. So they agreed to furnish the materials and Judge Sheesley did the job himself.
